event packages

When it comes to creating an event, there are so many elements to consider!

From budget, to setup, styling, guest list, guest speakers and facilitators, menus, accommodation, logistics, transport, branding, event materials – the list can seem never ending.

The Bellarine Events Co. offers 3 tiers of event support and our packages are all individually tailored to suit each client's specific needs. Creating relationships is such an important part of what we do, so we begin by sitting down with you to really understand what it is you hope to achieve from your event.

From there, we will create an event brief that meets both your objectives and your budget.
